

Street Angels was launched in Halifax in November 2005 as a response by Churches Together in Halifax and Halifax YMCA to the problems in the town centre on Friday and Saturday nights. The project has since gone from success to success, contributing to over 50% reduction in violent crime in Halifax town centre, promoting partnership working and seeing over 8000 volunteer hours invested each year. Based on this success many other towns across the UK are using the Street Angels model. More information on this and how to run Street Angels in your locality is on www.streetangels.org.uk
